Dear Colleague,

We are organizing the Conference on Digestive System Surgery 30th edition to be held in Rome on 28th and 29th November 2019 at its usual venue "the Auditorium del Massimo".

During these years of success, the Conference has gained importance on the national and international scenes. Now we wish to increase our Conference in order to guarantee a high level of contents and of technology.

Our aim which has always been achieved in our previous editions, is to bring you a conference of extreme scientific significance.

A unique event able to give an overview of Digestive System surgery using the latest techniques and technologies, always attentive to new themes and updates from both Italy and from overseas.

You will be given the opportunity to examine in depth the topics discussed through speeches, round tables discussions and symposia.

The broadcast of "Live Surgery" is the main feature of the event and has been tried and tested over the years.

We will take advantage of the coming months to further improve the video broadcasts, using innovative HD technology to connect you to the most important Operating Theatres in 5 continents: United States, Japan, France, Great Britain, Belgium, The Netherlands, Sweden, Spain, Portugal, Australia, China, Korea, Singapore, South Africa, Argentina, etc. For the 2019 edition we are planning to establish around 100 links with the most prestigious international surgeons.

We are counting on offering a true marathon of video surgery, 2 days of live broadcasts showing up to 9 operations simultaneously on giant screens, giving guests the chance to choose those they find most interesting.

You will also be given the opportunity to participate in the conference's parallel activities such as the Refresher Courses, Video forums, and win one of the magnificent prizes offered by our sponsors. We are convinced that video learning is an innovative, effective, and ultra-modern method to propagate scientific updates, which will prove extremely useful in terms of improving the quality of the care we offer to our patients.

Your participation in this event is essential to guarantee the success of the conference, so we look forward to seeing you in November.

*Best Regards,
Giorgio Palazzini*

Videoforum 2019

If you would like to participate, please send your training video to the Organisers' Office by 20 October 2019, together with the participation form that can be downloaded from the website www.laparoscopic.it. The videos must be DV, DVCAM or DVD format, of maximum 10' duration, and should deal with topics that are relevant to the Conference. They must not contain any background music, as they may be commentated live during the presentation and in order to avoid violating the regulations of the Italian Authors and Editors Society (SIAE). Videos will not be returned.

Only those who have regularly paid the registration fee for the Conference can send their videos.

The Scientific Office will choose the best videos and these will be presented in the various Videoforum sessions to be held on 28 and 29 November 2019. The videos chosen (only those sent by 20 October will be considered) will be copied and distributed to all those who have registered for the Conference or published online in the website www.laparoscopic.it or other related websites.

A board, or the participants in the Videoforum themselves, will choose the two most interesting videos for each session by way of a "televoting" system.

The Scientific Office will offers to the authors of the videos chosen 1 night of accommodation in a 4 star hotel, to be booked in relation to the date and time of the presentation of the video.

Types of support accepted: DVD - MINI DV - DV CAM

Types of support not accepted: Video CD - CD ROM - VHS
